To Whom It May Concern:

Due to the Sriracha shortage, Red Gold has had to suspend sales of our Huy Fong Sriracha Hot Chili Sauce Packets. Unfortunately, due to weather conditions affecting the quality of chili peppers, Huy Fong is facing a severe shortage of chilies and is unable to produce this product.

Huy Fong sources its red jalapeño chili peppers primarily from Mexico, New Mexico and California— areas that are experiencing a "megadrought that studies link to human-caused climate change." The extreme weather patterns have led to dry soil and subsequent crop failures in the regions.

Huy Fong states in the letter that any orders submitted after April 19, 2022, would be postponed until after Labor Day in the order they were received, and that new orders will be placed on hold until after September 6, 2022.

The following items are effected:
